FOREIGN LANGUAGE PROGRAM

This program offers the campers the possibility to learn French.

The main goal for this program is to give the campers the opportunity to interact with all the campers.

The language that will be used among the campers is English/French. The campers will be encouraged to speak it at all times.

MEDICAL SERVICE

When campers are not feeling well, they are welcome to visit the Academy's Health Care Department and they will be looked after.

The Academy's doctor visits the Moo Camp on a frequent basis to see any campers who are sick. All medical records are kept in a secure file.

If the camper gets sick while the doctor is not in the Camp, she will be brought to a treatment centre, if necessary. If an accident occurs, the Health Care Department will be notified and will determine whether a doctor should be contacted.

LAUNDRY AND CLOTHING

A specific laundry number is assigned to each student in order to have a more efficient laundry service. All personal belongings must be marked with this number.

All clothes must be able to be both washed and dried by machine.

Le Châtelard washes the campers' clothes that are machine washable. Intimate garments will be washed in a laundry net which each girl needs to bring with her. Ironing service is not provided. Dry cleaning service is not included. Campers who wish for this service will pay it from their personal account, Le Châtelard will only deliver and collect the clothing. Since dry cleaning service is very expensive, it is recommended that campers bring very few clothes which will require this service.

Please consider temperature variations during the day in the mountains (between 12°C and 25°C) this is why we recommend a Summer jacket.

MISSION, RULES AND REGULATIONS

Mission

The Moo, Swiss and Alumni Summer Camps cooperate with parents in the integral formation of their daughters. These are accomplished through a uniquely personalized program.

The Camp offers each camper the means by which she can forge her character in Christian values in accordance with her potential.

Through positive motivation, personal attention and constant supervision, the Camp helps campers identify and develop their own talents and skills.

2. Each camper is encouraged to become an Outstanding Camper.
3. Each camper should seek to give the best of herself and be willing to make full use of the opportunities offered by the Camp so as to become a person of integral formation.
4. The Camp encourages parents to help their daughters see the connection between external discipline and the formation of virtues and habits. The Camp depends on parents to motivate and encourage their daughter to see the value achieved through discipline. For this reason, the staff asks parents to whole-heartedly support Camp's rules and procedures.
